The Benefits of Document Automation

Save Time & Money

Fully automate document processes to save time, money, and other resources.

Scalability

From 5 to 5 million documents:
Document automation can be scaled to fit all requirements and needs.

DocumentsCorePack
Connector

Reduce User Workload

Automating tasks allows for less, often redundant work for users and reduces chance for manual errors.

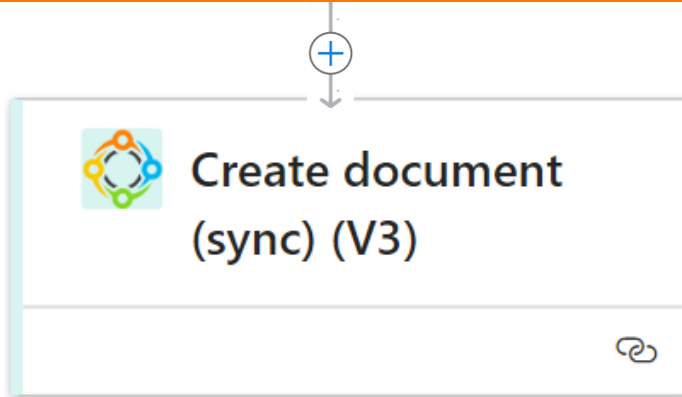

Optimize Customer Experience

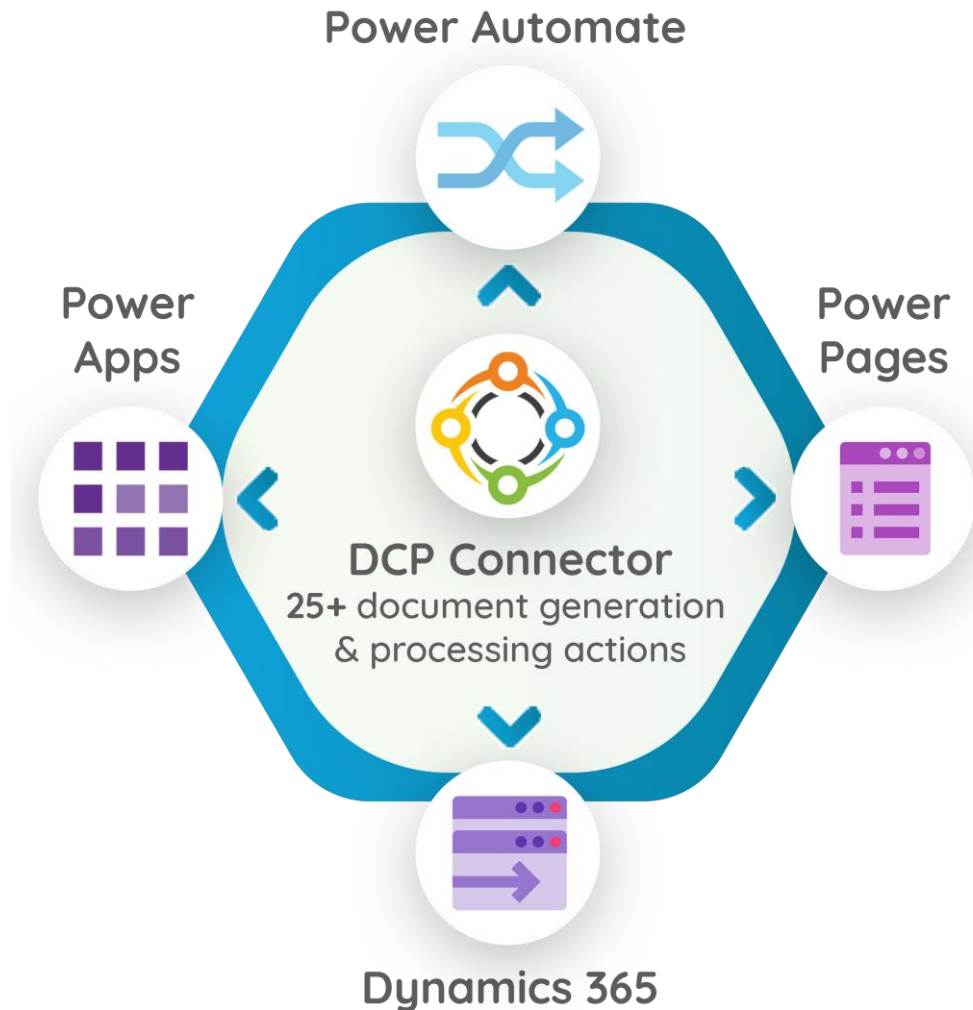

Maintain consistency and timeliness with document automation.

Generate, Deliver & Automate

1. Template
2. Data-reference
3. Filetype

- Document Content
- Filename
- Status (success/error)

Document

Delivery Agent

Real Life Scenarios

Key Benefits

-  Productivity: Save time and reduce costs with streamlined document processes
-  User Adoption: Less workload and frustration with simplified document tasks
-  Customer Experience: Improved document quality, error-free processing, and standardized automation.

Event communication

1. Confirmation email after subscribing to an event,
 2. Sending a reminder one week before the event,
 3. Sending a reminder one day before the event and
 4. Sending an NPS survey after the event.
- ➔ Fully automated Power Automate flows

Donations

The best feature is 'Request for Donation.' With DCP, we send letters with QR codes to potential donors. They scan, donate, and the donation appears in our CRM—triggering an automatic Thank You letter. A seamless, closed loop.

Invoice automation

I set up a Cloud Flow that triggers when an Order becomes an Invoice. It determines the type (print or email), generates a PDF, and either emails it from the department's mailbox or sends it to a printer. The document is also stored in Blob Storage.
